Won by Rancher

The heart and mind of Lili Damita, exotic French film star, above, sought vainly by several Europeans of royal blood, have been won by an Australian rancher. The actress has confirmed the report that she will be the bride of Hugo Brasse, a millionaire from the Antipodes, early in October. Lili won headlines several years ago when she danced for two hours with Prince George of England in Hollywood.

Urges Government Insurance to Give Complete Economic Security

In the following Labor Day message, Secretary of Labor Perkins discusses the accomplishments of her department and sets forth her hopes for the future.

By FRANCIS PERKINS
Secretary of Labor of the United States

(Written for the Associated Press.)
As a nation on this Labor Day, we are recognizing that programs long thought of as merely labor welfare are really essential factors for recovery and for the technique of industrial management in a mass-production age.

The test of adjusting our industrial life to the patterns of democracy and the needs of a new mechanical period mark both a gain in the standards of life and a new responsibility for constructive leadership on the part of

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

NEG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

No man gets too old to learn new tricks when a pretty girl cracks the whip.

That chap was an offshoot of the village atheist species. He had no use for formal religion, but he did have a lurking belief in the divinity of mankind. So he got a big scrapbook and went through the newspapers daily, collecting clippings which would support his thesis that humanity has within it the seeds of something very great and noble.

And he got together quite an interesting book.

On one page there would be a newspaper photo of such a man as Marconi. Then there would be a clipping telling how some phone girl in a town menaced by forest fire stuck to her post in spite of the danger, to warn others of the flames.

Next there would be the story of some youngster who lost his life trying to save another from drowning; a picture of a traffic cop, whose kindly, good-natured efficiency protected the lives of scores of school children daily; a story of how some country doctor, who had rounded out half a century of under-paid service, pioneers of such men as the Mayo brothers, and so on—page after page of revelations that people can be far more unselfish and brave and devoted to the common good than anyone has a right to expect them to be.

Now this fictional character—he is to be found in Archie Blinn's novel, "Lightship," in case you are interested—did no more than all of us must feel like doing now and then.

The daily papers are full of such clippings; stories of people who use their intelligence to put new comforts or new tools into the hands of fellow men; stories of men and women who are willing to sacrifice their ease, their careers, or their very lives in obedience to some mysterious but imperative call to sacrifice.

Usually we read about them and then go on to something else; and since the daily grist of news about people contains much that is discouraging, much that has to do with stupidity and greed and willful wrong-headedness, we are apt to forget about the brighter spots. Keeping a scrapbook of this kind might be wholesome corrective.

Whatever progress the race makes must depend ultimately upon the resources that are within the human heart. We cannot be reminded too often of heroism, unselfishness, and of intelligence are drawn from an inexhaustible reservoir.

Twelve English schoolboys, says a cable from London, are about to start for the United States to spend a year in an American private school. They are going on scholarships as a part of a scheme to promote better understanding between the two nations.

Loudly as the idea is, there are people who would praise it a little more enthusiastically if they knew just what private schools the lads are to attend. For there are, in the United States, private schools and private schools and private schools.

Some of them are very excellent indeed, and some of them are pale and snobbish imitations of English schools; and it is to be hoped that

Parker's Lead Now Nearly 10,000

Errors Made In Counting Votes Favors Parker

Official Return From 56 Counties Are Complete

PARKS IS TRAILING

Incumbent Seeks to Recount Votes in Ashley, Calhoun Counties

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—A revision of returns from last Tuesday's run-off primary Saturday gave Charles Parker, over J. Oscar Humphrey in the race for state auditor on the basis of official returns from 56 counties and complete unofficial returns from 17 other counties.

The vote stood: Parker, 102,086, against a vote of 92,733.

In the seventh congressional district, Congressman Tilman B. Parks of Camden, sought to recount votes in several precincts of Calhoun and Ashley counties.

He trailed Wade Kitchens of Magnolia, by 43 votes on the basis of official returns from nine counties and unofficial returns from Ashley and Calhoun counties.

Kitchens's vote was 14,897 against 14,852 for Parks.

Two errors in transmission of returns brought Charles Parker's lead to nearly 10,000 ahead of Humphrey.

Kitchens's Lead Small—(AP)—Wade Kitchens, Magnolia attorney and former state representative, Friday night maintained a lead of 45 votes over Congressman Tilman B. Parks as official returns were reported from the Tuesday runoff primary.

Returns from the seventh congressional district included official figures from nine counties and complete but unofficial returns from the other two, giving Kitchens 14,897 against 14,852 for Parks.

Official returns had been tabulated Friday night from all counties in the district with the exception of Ashley and Calhoun. Parks was credited with 1340 votes in Ashley against 1149 for Kitchens in the unofficial but complete returns. In Calhoun county, unofficial count gave Parks 1561 against 1547 for Kitchens.

Returns Friday night showed Parks to have led Kitchens in six counties obtaining a margin in the other five.

The vote follows:

Counties	Parks	Kitchens
Adams	1240	1149
Bradley	1027	1279
Calhoun	1561	1574
Clark	961	1206

Hempstead Vote

The official vote in Hempstead county was certified as Kitchens 1994 and Park 1956 after much discussion by the committee over a recount of the Stephenson School House box, where the vote was in dispute. The committee voted 20 to 10 not to make the recount.

Only 23 poll tax receipts were reported for the box while 186 votes were reported cast of which 140 went to Kitchens and 46 to Parks. Friends of Congressman Parks at Hope declined to comment on the outcome of the dispute.

Airplane Race Is Won by Doug Davis

John Worthen of Pine Bluff, Finishes Second at Cleveland

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Two hours and 42 minutes after he took off from Burbank, California, Roscoe Turner, speed flyer, out to break his own transcontinental record of 10 hours and five minutes, landed here Saturday morning.

His ship took on gasoline and oil and then continued his journey. Refueling required only 8 minutes.

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Flying part of the time at a speed of 230 miles an hour, Douglas Davis of Atlanta, Ga., Friday won the transcontinental race from Burbank, Calif., to Cleveland, feature event of the opening program of the 1934 national air races.

But despite his speed, Davis fell short of the Los Angeles to Cleveland record set by Jimmy Hailzilp in 1932. Davis took nine hours, 26 minutes and 41 seconds for the trip from Burbank. Hailzilp made the flight from Los Angeles in eight hours, 19 minutes and 46 seconds.

Two other fliers competed in Friday's cross-country dash, the Gehlbach of New York, and John Worthen, of Pine Bluff, Ark., the latter arrived at the Cleveland airport in 10 hours and 45 minutes after the Atlanta flight, and Gehlbach at that time was still in the air but expected to arrive at the airport by dark.

30,000 at Show

Air race officials said 30,000 persons were in the grandstand Friday as Davis sped across the goal line to receive personal congratulations from Mary Pickford of the movies, and the plaudits of the crowd. The Atlanta flier also will receive $4500 cash award and the Vincent Bendix trophy.

Davis made just two stops on his cross country flight, both to refuel. The first was at Goodland, Kansas, the second at Lansing, Illinois. He flew a black and red low wing monoplane.

Stomus increased his flying time, the winner said on his arrival, and his plane, streaked with oil, gave evidence of a difficult battle.

Davis flew the same plane in which the late James Wedell established the world's land plane speed record of 305.33 miles per hour last year at Chicago. It carried 450 horsepower.

Numerous other racing events, and dozens of thrilling aeronautical tricks, entertained the opening day air races crowd.

Roy Minor of Hollywood, California, pushed his mystery ship, "Miss Los Angeles," at a top speed of 235.529 miles an hour—going with the wind—and averaged 243.145.

Walter Wedell, brother of the late "speed king," Jimmy Wedell, flew the same course an average of 218.913 miles an hour. His fastest lap, down wind, was 255.717.

Long Opens Probe New Orleans City Government

SOLDIERS ON GUARD

Investigation Precedes Election Scheduled for Next Week

NEW ORLEANS, La. — (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long opened an investigation into New Orleans's city government Saturday in a building that was guarded by bayonets held in the hands of the state's soldiers.

The investigation precedes by a few days the September 11 congressional primary which is expected to decide whether Long or Mayor Walmsley will win political control of the city. Newspapersmen, under instruction from Long, were ordered from the building.

Henry R. Long, a native of Mississippi, told an investigating committee Saturday that the lottery ring of New Orleans paid weekly to Mayor Walmsley approximately $1,000 and Superintendent of Police George Rye, around $700.

Tax Collection Shows Increase

New Records Set for Gasoline and Toll Bridge Receipts

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The state revenue department closed its books Friday on August special tax collections which were $15,000 short of the $1,000,000 mark, but $153,000 above the receipts for August of last year.

Records were set for gasoline and toll bridge collections indicating a brisk tourist business in the state for August and July, since gasoline taxes are paid the month following the sale and consumption of the fuel.

Total collections were $985,140.88 as compared with $832,267.58 last August. Gasoline tax collections were $746,315.38, or about $500,000 more than the previous record month, which was last June.

Cigarette tax stamps sales also were brisk, the department collecting $79,381.25 from this source, or about $26,000 more than for the like period a year ago.

Auto license fees dropped sharply to $25,106.64 largely because of the new law which permits the sale of half-year license.

44 States Join in Safety Drive

Seek to Make September Model Month of Safety On Highways

NEW YORK—(AP)—Forty-four states of the union and the District of Columbia joined Friday to make September a model month in traffic safety regulation.

Governors of the state and the board of commissioners of the District of Columbia have issued proclamations calling on citizens and officials to make September a demonstration month of the safe use of highways. The only states not included are Maine, Louisiana, Kentucky and Oklahoma.

Commerce Secretary Daniel Roper in his capacity as chairman of the national conference on street and highway safety, declared every effort must be put forth this September to reduce the country's loss of life, pointing out that a large proportion of it can be avoided.

President Roosevelt has declared that the action of the governors is timely since the period of the year in which the heaviest loss of life occurs is now beginning.

The president declared that the country must attack the problem continuously and energetically and through a co-ordinated national effort.

Based on past experience, it is estimated that the nation's accident casualty list for this year will be 36,000 dead and more than a million injured.

The record to date is 20 per cent higher than for last year, and the closing months of the year in the past have always increased the percentage.

Hendrix Says 'Why' He Conceded Race

Issues Statement Concerning Voting in Stephenson Precinct

Dewey Hendrix, who Friday conceded the nomination of county tax assessor to Mrs. Isabelle Onstead without an inquiry into the Stephenson School House where much bitter criticism has been directed following the runoff primary, Saturday issued the following statement:

"When the official vote was tabulated my opponent was leading me by 27 votes. Some of my friends advised that I contest a certain box in the county in which my opponent received 147 votes and I received 39, at which box it is believed at least 140 votes were cast by persons who had not paid a poll tax.

"After discussing the advisability of such contest with quite a few of my friends, and after conferring with my opponent, we finally reached an agreement under the terms of which I conceded the nomination to Mrs. Onstead and accepted a position as deputy to her in the office.

"Each of us received a big vote, evidencing the fact that each of us have lots of friends in the county. My opponent made a fair, hard and honest fight for the office.

"She understands the affairs of the office, and I, as well as some of my friends, feel that even though on a contest I might win the office, it would be an expense to both of us and inasmuch as both of us have received such complimentary vote, and both need the work, we deem it advisable to adjust the matter in the way we have in order to avoid litigation."

Six Persons Are Held by Federal Men at Chicago

Two Physicians Who "Lifted" Gangster's Face Are Captured

ATTORNEY IS HELD

All Accused by Government for Harboring Slain Outlaw

CHICAGO—(AP)—Two Chicago physicians who performed face lifting operations and tried to change the finger prints of John Dillinger, and Homer Van Meter, slain outlaws, were under arrest Saturday.

Department of Justice agents were holding Louis Piquet, an attorney, and four other persons.

All are accused of harboring and concealing the notorious gangsters.

The physicians held are Dr. Wilhelm Looser and Dr. Harold Bernard Cassidy.

Others held in addition to the two doctors and Attorney Piquet, are Arthur W. Oleary, an employee in Piquet's office, William and Ella Finerty and Marie Corfatti.

The latter is Homer Van Meter's girl friend, charged with harboring him in Calumet City, Ill.

John Dillinger was put on the spot the latter part of July as he walked out of the Biograph theater in Chicago.

A month later Van Meter was wiped out by police and federal agent's guns.

Refuses to Pay for Eaton Rites

Voucher Turned Down for Burial of Girl Convict

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Payment of a $245 voucher for the burial expenses of Helen Spence Eaton, 21-year-old girl convict who was killed during an escape last July was withheld by State Comptroller Griffin Smith as "exorbitant," but he offered to join with "any others who desire to personally pay this bill."

The voucher, drawn by Superintendent S. L. Todhunter of the prison system, contained an item of $175 for a casket, and Smith disallowed the voucher on the grounds it would be a showing of favoritism to permit the prisoner when the usual allowance for a prison casket is $40 to $50.

"I cannot exercise the same liberality with public funds," Smith wrote Todhunter, "that I do with private funds, therefore I am offering to join any others who desire to personally pay this bill."

Todhunter said he would pay the bill if the state would not, and added the panel board had instructed him to "give this girl a decent burial."

"This was an unusual case," said Todhunter, who was named superintendent in the place of A. G. Stedman, Newport, as a direct result of the shooting of the twice convicted girl slayer 24 hours after she left behind at the state farm for women a note saying she would "never be taken alive."

The girl was shot by Frank Martin, trusty convict, who now awaits trial for the slaying.

"When the girl's body lay in funeral parlors in North Little Rock," Todhunter said, "people were out soliciting funds to pay her burial expenses. I told the undertakers the state would pay the expenses, and if it does not, I shall personally pay the bill."

The voucher listed the expenses as $175 for a casket, $25 for embalming, and $45 for hearse hire in transporting the body from where to DeWitt Helen's home, where she was buried near her father and mother whose deaths were closely connected with her first slaying and her subsequent criminal record.

It was in 1928 that Helen fired four shots into the body of Jack Woods, as the jury was about to retire to decide whether he had killed Cicero Spence, Helen's father, and attacked her mother in a boat on White river.

Later, Helen confessed to the slaying of Jim Bohols, DeWitt restaurant man, and receiving the sentence she was serving at the time of her escape and slaying.

Gulf Storm 200 Miles From Brownsville, Tex.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Weather Bureau late Friday issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory 4:30 p. m. gulf tropical disturbance which has been impossible to locate definitely during the last 24 hours, is apparently central about 200 miles south, southeast of Brownsville, Texas, and about 150 miles northeast of Tampico, Mexico, attended by shifting gales and possibly winds of hurricane force near center."

Political Sizzler Is Scheduled For Tuesday

By the Associated Press
The second Tuesday of September—the eleventh—will be a political sizzler. Many opinions will be expressed by party leaders then as to what the Maine election of Monday, September 10, portends as to elections in the 47 other states November 6.

Possibly the Maine results and interpretations thereof will overshadow the actual voting of September 11. On that day primaries in eight states and conventions in two will make nominations for congress. Particular attention will be devoted to a fight between Senator Huey Long and Mayor Walmsley of New Orleans over control of the New Orleans delegation to the house.

Primaries and conventions September 11 follow:

Arizona—In a primary, Senator Henry F. Ashurst has four opponents for the democratic nomination, including Sidney Osborn, resigned state chairman. Mrs. Isabelle Greenway, democrat, the state's one representative, is opposed by Frank Bilgeman, farmer. Governor B. B.

Your Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Your Body Needs Salt to Avoid Heat Stroke.

You need salt not just to season your food and make it palatable, but to make up for the great loss of this important element from your body when you perspire.

This becomes all the more important if you happen to be working at a trade that causes considerable perspiration, such as those in bakeries, in laundries, in kitchens and furnace rooms.

It has been found that the loss of large amounts of salt in the sweat is probably the chief reason for heat cramps and heat exhaustion.

This type of exhaustion develops more frequently during summer, but you should also be prepared against it even in winter, when heat is a serious factor in a person's occupation.

Should anyone in such work become suddenly faint, put him flat on his back at once, keep him warm, rub any muscles that may be involved in cramps and give him hot coffee as a stimulant. Of course, you should also send for a doctor at once, so that the exact nature of the fainting attack may be determined.

But, as I have said you'll find that probably the chief reason for the fainting spell is the lack of sufficient salt in the system, by its loss through sweat.

To overcome this cause, it is now customary to make up the loss of salt by having available small tablets which contain about 1 gram (or 15 grains) of table salt. You dissolve this in a glass of water each time you take a drink.

Records are now available from a great many industrial plants and they show that almost every case of heat cramps and heat exhaustion has been eliminated when the workers made use of these tablets.

The worker should, of course, be protected as much as possible against heat exhaustion and heat cramps by proper arrangement of his environment.

We have not yet come to the place where furnace rooms are air conditioned, but it is possible, by means of exhaust fans, by suitable facilities of ventilation and recreation, to give workers in industries where they are subjected to heat, opportunity for short periods away from the heat, during which their bodies will get a chance to recover from the strain and stress of work under such conditions.

The human body is quite capable of taking care of itself, it given half a chance. A man who works a few hours and has a rest period can then undertake additional hours of work, whereas continuous effort under such conditions might lead to serious physical disturbances.

Up-to-Date Pirates Are Led by Woman—Here's Gay Tale of Seamen Who Turned Buccaneers

By BRUCE CATTON

Piracy on the high seas is out of date, nowadays, except in Chinese waters. The Jolly Roger went out about the time that the steam engine came in, and it seems to be out for good.

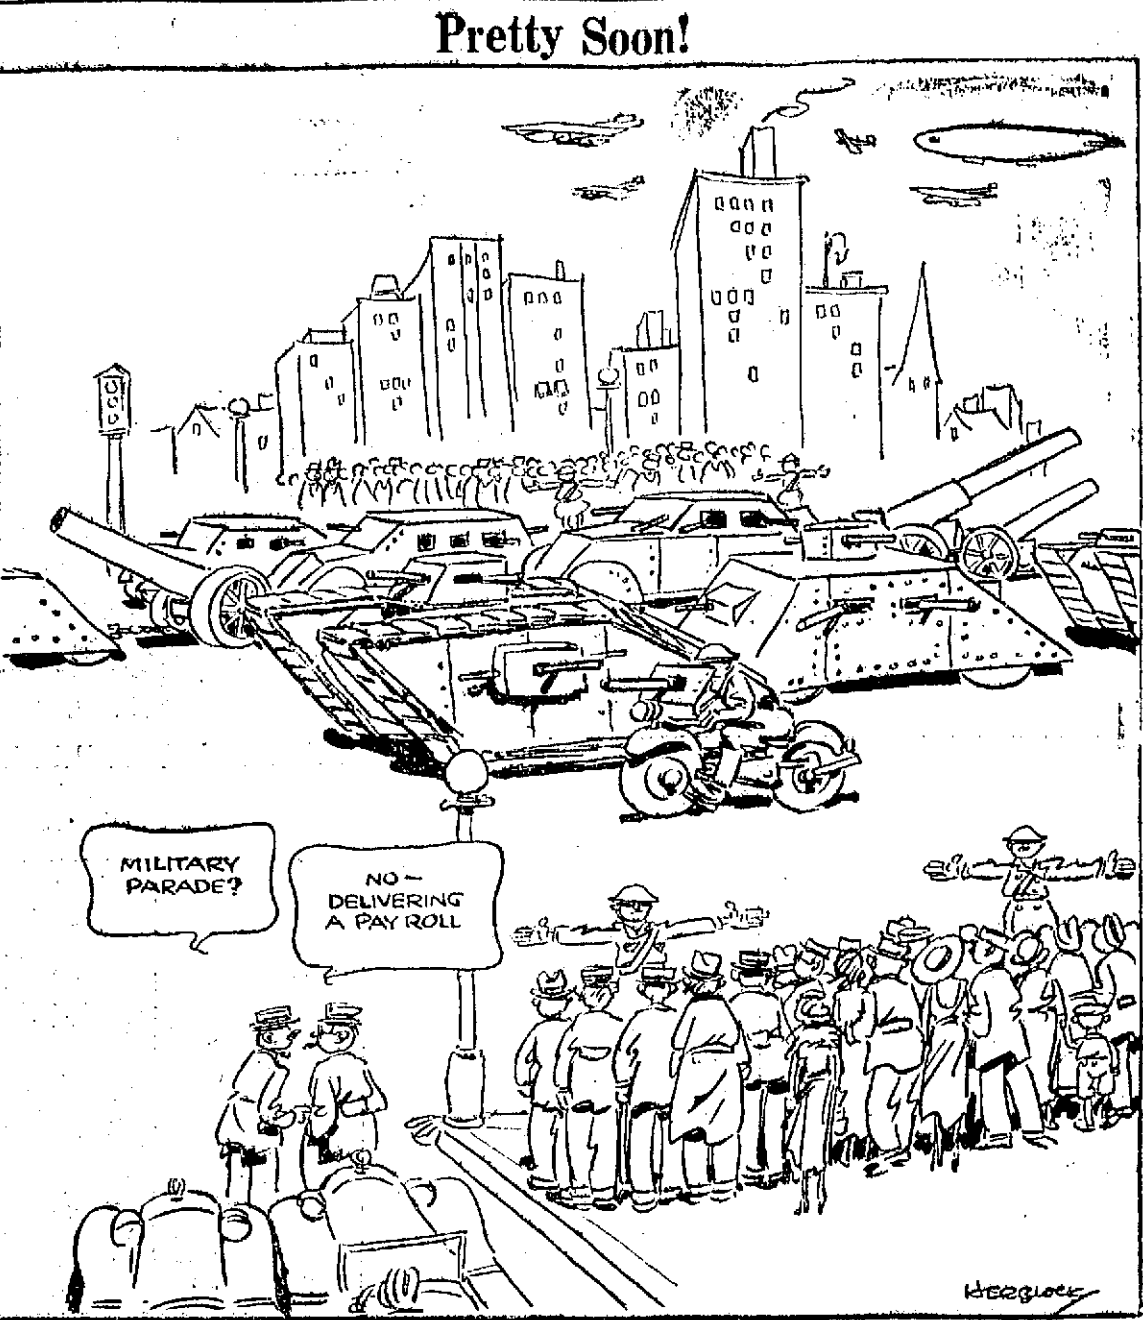

But Dale Collins suggests—in his new novel, "The Mutiny of Madame Yes"—that pirate or two, if only the pirates are smart enough to see their chance. And he makes his story such a good combination of farce-comedy and honest melodrama that a lot of people are going to enjoy reading it.

His "Madame Yes" is a lady-about-London who bumps into a ship captain one night and goes with him when he sails for China with a shipload of guns and munitions. She gets her name, by the way, from the fact that she can never say "No."

The captain drops dead just as the ship reaches Suez, and simultaneously the owner of the ship goes broke, leaving the vessel completely stranded. And then Madame Yes gets tired of saying yes and decides to go in for adventure instead of romance.

So she persuades the crew to sail the ship out into the Atlantic, has them mount guns on deck, and leads them, presently, in the looting of a transatlantic liner.

How the ship heads back for England, how these modern seamen-turned-buccaneers act in their new roles,

The writings of Linnaeus on the sex system in plant life shocked the religious world of the 18th century and were banned for years in several European countries.

Prune bread baking has increased to an output of 200,000 loaves weekly, since its introduction in California last summer; four ounces of prunes are utilized to a loaf.

The mountain village of Mars Hill, N. C., has taken to the manufacture of hand-made rugs and 100 skilled mountaineer-weavers have found permanent employment.

BEACH CLUB GIRL

MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SYLVIA RIVERS, richest girl in Larchmont, fashionable New York suburb, dislikes BOOTS RABBIT. Due to Sylvia's malicious gossip, Boots is asked to resign from the Junior.

But and reckless, Boots accepts the attentions of RUSS LIND, swimming instructor. He asks her to marry him but Boots wants time to think it over.

When Mrs. Rabbits returns from a trip out of town Boots reads her mother's lettering about her withdrawal from the club. Boots goes to New York on a shopping trip and on the train encounters Russ who begs her to marry him next day. She agrees. Russ goes to spend the night with his family, leaving Boots at a hotel.

They are married and Russ takes his bride to his brother's apartment. It is a cheap and sordid place and Russ's brother and his wife, GLORIA, are disappointed.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXI

AS the days melted into weeks Boots' realization of what she had done, the seriousness of the step she had taken that August morning almost overwhelmed her. She would have died rather than admit that her marriage to Russ had been a mistake; but there it was. Nature, for her own purposes, had thrown a veil of glamour over this particular young man. Moonlight nights, scent of roses in the hedges, the spell of physical nearness had blinded her to his imperfections. Now, quite suddenly, she saw him with clear eyes. He was a fine physical specimen, he was sublimely handsome, he had excellent teeth and an agreeable smile. Beyond that, beyond the loveliness which had already begun to pall a little there was simply nothing; no bond between them. They spoke different languages.

She was not the first girl to come alive to this difference after marriage. But she was young and the lesson was a bitter one. Her stolid acceptance of the situation spoke volumes for her growing maturity. Although she celebrated her 19th birthday early in September she was years older—or felt it—in experience and wisdom. When she passed young girls on the street she glanced at them curiously.

"Was I really that stupid and unseeing last year?" she often said to herself.

After that black afternoon when she had received from her parents a strapped and neatly addressed trunk and a brief, cold note advising her that her father did not wish to hear from her again she had had no further word from Larchmont. She seldom went over to New York now. She had no money to spend and Gloria, discovering that Boots had a real talent for housework, was leaving more and more for her to do in the shabby flat.

When questioned about their plans Russ usually mumbled something vague about starting for Florida a little later. Boots had learned now that the car which he had driven about the village that summer was not really his. It had been taken back by the company because of defaulted payments. How they were to get to Florida she had no least idea but for a long time she trusted in Russ to keep his word, against her better judgment and indeed her common sense.

SOMETIMES, in the dead of night, she thought of her mother and her tears fell thick and fast. She never let Russ see her cry. It made him angry. He hated, he said, "squalling women." But usually he was kind, in a thoroughly unimaginative way. To this girl who had been babied and petted all her life the experience of living as a member of this household was a devastating and maturing one. The old life, seen from this vantage, seemed now unbelievably soft and easy. What had she done with her time, her money? Why, even her old servant allowance now seemed prodigious.

"We've got to get out of this place. We've simply got to," she murmured one warm morning in late September. She was alone in the flat. Gloria had left the house a few moments before on one of her periodical "shopping" orgies. Gloria was perfectly happy strolling down Manhattan's Fourteenth street, staring at the wax mannequins in the windows, sipping a hot chocolate and swallowing a double-decker sandwich at a crowd of soda fountain counters. Lou and Gloria never managed to save a penny. The installment collector was a familiar figure at the door of the flat. But Gloria came home from these expeditions triumphant in her spoils—a velvet hat "just like the uptown shops," a sleazy pink silk vest, a pair of gloves which would shrink hopelessly in the first washing. Bargains were Gloria's very breath of life. Her bureau drawers overflowed with lace trimmed nightgowns with frayed seams. There were half a dozen shoddy pairs of high-heeled shoes tumbling about in gray clouds of dust on the floor of her clothes closet.

"I can't live this way. I won't," Boots told herself, setting her lips stubbornly. This was the day Russ had gone over to Jersey to see some vague man "about a job." Boots had rather lost faith in these nebulous jobs. After she had hung the frayed towel beside the cracked dishpan she spread the morning paper out on the drain-board, open at the "help wanted" pages. Girl wanted . . . 20 wanted . . . oh, there were 20 jobs open but she was eligible for none of them.

"Steno. college grad; dept. store."

"Switchbl. opr. mult. exp."

"Alert, capable woman, over 27; executive ability."

SHE opened her purse, the dark blue kidskin envelope she had bought so casually last spring. It was still smart looking but the change purse was limp; she shook out its contents. Thirty cents. The quarter Russ had given her yesterday. The nickel she had saved. Russ had been shame-faced but blustering about it.

"Stick with me, kid, and you'll wear diamonds," he had said. He remembered hearing his father say that to his mother.

Thirty cents. Five cents for subway fare to the city. Five cents back. She could have lunch at some counter. Maybe the basement of the dime store. She'd do it. She wouldn't wait around till Russ came home, till Gloria came dawdling in with her bargain of the day. She'd go over to New York and see if there wasn't something—anything—she could do.

If only she didn't get anyone from home! That was the fear

Words of Praise for Harvey Couch

Jesse Jones Lauds Arkansas for Patriotic Service Rendered in RFC

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The resignation of Harvey Couch of Arkansas as a member of the board of directors of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation was accepted prior to his departure for Pine Bluff.

The resignation brought expressions of respect and words of praise for Couch from Chairman Jesse Jones and fellow board members.

Couch is one of the original members of the corporation's board. He was appointed by President Hoover when the RFC was created February 22, 1931. Chairman Jones is now the only original member of the board remaining.

Couch is president of the Arkansas Power & Light Co., the Mississippi Power & Light Co., and chairman of the board of the Ark. & La. railroad, of which his brother, C. O. Couch, is president.

Wine Can Be Taken or Left Alone in Sauces for Sweetbreads

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEARLY every one is possible for themselves to serve dishes that were extremely difficult to concoct during recent years because the ingredients were impossible to obtain. There's an inimitable flavor developed in foods prepared with wines, and as wines are available again, it's well worth while to introduce them in dishes for special occasions.

Sweetbreads in wine sauce will be sure to please a party of adults for luncheon after the theater or as a course in a formal dinner.

Wine Sweetbreads
Two pairs sweetbreads, 2 tablespoons butter, few drops lemon juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-1/2 teaspoon white pepper, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup chicken stock, few drops Worcestershire sauce, 1/2 cup white wine, four triangles.

Tomorrow's Menu
Breakfast: Halves of grape fruit, crisp broiled bacon with calves liver, whole wheat muffins, milk and coffee.

Luncheon: Baked egg-plant with cheese, sliced cucumbers with French dressing, floating island, grape juice.

Dinner: Veal pot pie, creamed cauliflower, stuffed tomato salad, peach blanc-mange, milk, coffee.

glies hot buttered toast.

If chicken stock is not at hand use a chicken bouillon cube and 1 cup hot water. Cool before using in sauce.

Prepare sweetbreads by soaking in cold salted water for one hour, then simmering in acidulated water for 20 minutes. Cool, remove tissues and tubes and split.

Make sauce by melting butter over a low fire until bubbly. Add flour, salt and pepper and stir until smooth. Add onion and stock slowly, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add Worcestershire sauce and wine. Heat, but do not allow to boil.

Sprinkle sweetbreads lightly with salt and paprika and dot lightly with butter. Broil under flame until brown, first on one side and then on the other. Arrange on toast on hot platter, pour over sauce, garnish with parsley or sprays of watercress and serve at once.

If you want to serve sweetbreads in a sauce made without wine I'm sure you will find the following one delicious and well seasoned.

Two pairs sweetbreads, 1/2 mushrooms, 1 teaspoon minced chives, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 cup chicken broth, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, yolks 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon minced celery, 2 teaspoons tarragon vinegar, 1 scant tablespoon flour, salt and 2 drops tabasco sauce.

Prepare sweetbreads as usual. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in frying pan and add sweetbreads. Sprinkle lightly with salt and white pepper and cook over a low fire until a pale straw color. Turn and cook on the other side. Remove to hot platter and add chives and mushrooms which have been peeled and chopped, to butter in frying pan. Cook five minutes and add to sauce which is prepared as follows:

Melt remaining butter in sauce pan and add parsley and celery. Cover and cook over a low fire for five minutes. Add stock and simmer ten minutes. Beat yolks of eggs and cold flour, heating in 1 tablespoon cold stock reserved for the purpose. Pour the sauce from the pan into the egg mixture, beating well with a fork. Cook over hot water, stirring to keep smooth until the sauce thickens. Add vinegar and tabasco and pour over sweetbreads. Serve at once.

THE woman behind the desk shook her head pleasantly but firmly. The woods, she said to Boots, were full of college girls willing to do anything. Had she tried the department stores? She had heard it was possible to get in over at Macy's. "Personally," she said, lowering her voice, "we only handle clerical work—high-class stuff, you understand." "Macy's—well, you might say you had a year of college. They like that. They won't investigate."

Lacy's was 10 blocks away. Ten long city blocks of crowds, of traffic lights, of milling taxis. Boots walked them briskly, impelled by youth and a fervent hope and ambition.

The personnel department of Lacy's. You made out a long form, peppered by half a hundred questions, most of them sounding quite irrelevant. You filed this. A serious young woman with a deep voice talked to you about the aims and ideals of the big store and you went away, buoyed by a new hope. Maybe this time next week you would be behind one of those busy counters. Lace or books or chinwags. Part time at $2.30 a day. Four days of that. Boots thought ecstatically. would be almost $12.

Sylvia Rivers paid $12 for her sports shoes, but what did that signify?

Lacy's! She had bought things here always. Blouses, gloves, pretty tailored underthings. Now her highest hope was to be on the other side of the counter, a sales slip in her hand.

She pitted all her strength against the stubborn glass door which swung outward, colliding with a girl who was entering the store.

"Isabel!" The name tumbled out before she had time to think. The other girl widened her eyes. "My dear, wherever did you drop from?"

Today
Why grieve over errors of the past?
Need such our future sway?
The past can't make us right or wrong.
"This what we are today!"
Old "Yesterday" has lived its life.
Why linger 'mid its sorrow?
It bears no part in future joy.
Forget it for—Tomorrow.
"This grand 'Today' must rule supreme."
Away with care and sorrow.
The joy of living right—Today.
Will make us glad—Tomorrow.

Group Projects Are Seen Growing

Urge Several Reconditioning Programs in Same Neighborhood

Group projects, such as the painting of an entire block of homes, or the re-facing of a row-house development, are regarded by the Federal Housing Administration as potential community programs which might go forward under the modernization provisions of the National Housing Act. In many instances, it is pointed out, the individual home owner will hesitate about going ahead with an improvement operation on his property if the surrounding homes are to remain in unkept, rundown condition. The advisability of many projects, the FHA recognizes, will hinge on the rehabilitation of the entire neighborhood in which such structures are located.

Organization Started

Community committees which are being organized all over the country to carry forward the campaign work under the government-fostered property renovation and improvement program are being urged to encourage the group-project idea. This feature, the FHA feels, must not be neglected if the program is to come up to expectations.

In these united efforts, the civic-minded men and women of each community are expected to assume the leadership. They will find ready to co-operate with them architects, builders, city planners, material men, real estate operators and bankers. Behind the efforts of these the Federal Housing Administration will lend the full support of its Public Relations Division, equipped to provide publicity materials for local drives, literature and booklets explaining and interpreting the provisions of the Act.

An important factor to be considered by property owners is that group projects of the type suggested by the FHA might easily result in reduced cost to the individual if a blanket contract is entered into with the building tradespeople and material supplies. This idea has been successfully developed in the past in several communities.

Remove the "Eye-sores"
Many ideas naturally will suggest themselves to property owners who have in mind group developments. United efforts in arousing public opinion for the removal of so-called "eye-sores" will often produce results that are of benefit to the entire community.

Another point suggested by FHA is that property owners on the same block or in the same neighborhood, where such steps are feasible, plan their projects so that they will harmonize and add greater attractiveness to the entire community in which the improvements are being made.

MISS PERKINS

labor.
Program of Department.
In March, 1933, the department of labor, in co-operation with leaders of organized, civic organizations and others, formulated and launched a program. It provided:

1. Unemployment relief should be provided in some way by the federal government.
2. It issued the warning that relief should not be used to supplement sweatshop wages so as to subsidize sweatshops.

3. It recommended that a large public works program be undertaken and that it include projects to stimulate the building industry.
4. It pointed out that the abolition of child labor was an immediate necessity for the country.

5. It suggested that public and semi-public buildings be used as educational and other centers for people out of work.
6. It recommended a drastic limitation of hours of labor both now and in the future.

7. It urged better wages and some machinery for fixing minimum wages at a level which should be at least a living wage.
8. It suggested the establishment of boards, either regional or industrial, which might hear evidence and testimony and make findings regarding these and other matters often in dispute between employer and employee.

9. It urged that the standards of purchase by the government be such as to require fair hours and wages by firms from which purchase is made and to raise the level of the working conditions of the people of the United States.
10. And lastly, the recommendation was made that underlink all these proposals there should be an agreement upon the necessity of recognizing universally the right of workers to organize of their own choosing.

On Labor Day of 1934 practically all the recommendations made in March, 1933, are in effect.

Asks Permanent Reforms
Many of them, however, are on a temporary emergency basis. Conscientious reconsideration of each of them leads me to the conclusion that most of these reforms are of basic importance in our national, industrial and economic life, and must be made permanent in some way compatible with democratic procedure and our federal state system.

I expect to see the following made permanent:
1. Shorter hours throughout industry and trade.
2. Higher standards of wages, and particularly, a machinery for regulating the minimum levels of wages.
3. The permanent abolition of child labor.

4. The use of government purchasing power for supplies and equipment to maintain industrial standards.
5. Boards for hearing locally and investigating, making findings and readjusting complaints of industrial practices.
6. The general recognition of the desirability of competent wage earners' representation, selected through organization, in all matters affecting

Off to Altar, Jean and Powell May Try It Together

If the Jean Harlow-William Powell vacation friendship at Del Monte, Calif., eventually leads to the altar as friends of the pair expect, it will be the fourth try at marriage for the platinum blond, upper right, and the third for the dapper Mr. Powell, upper left. After divorce terminated his first marital venture with Julie M. Powell, actress, Powell won the beautiful Carole Lombard, lower left. But they too were divorced after two years. Below Jean's new portrait are her husbands, past and present. Left to right: No. 1, Charles F. McGrew, divorced; No. 2, Paul Bern, who killed himself; and No. 3, Hal C. Rosson, from whom the actress now seeks her freedom.

Ferguson Gives Post to Garner

Committee Seat of Texas Goes to Vice President, Harmony Seen

AUSTIN, Tex.—(AP)—James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson and administration spokesman, said he made the offer in interest of "party harmony."

The offer was made in a telegram to Vice President Garner.
Ferguson quoted Garner as replying that Garner did not see how he could "consistently decline to comply should the party call upon me to render the service," in view of honors that had been heaped upon Garner by Texas democracy.

"Needs of Texas at this perilous time will be best obtained by fullest co-operation of state and national government," Ferguson stated. "I have decided Vice President Garner can render the state the greatest good as national democratic committee-man."

Garner, it was reported, has been offered the support of James V. Allred, democratic nominee for governor, should he desire the office. Ferguson was elected national committeeman in March by the state executive committee. Allred is opposed to continuing him in the post.

Mrs. W. T. McDaniel, 65, sister of J. H. McDaniel of this city, died Saturday at her home in Cale. Funeral and burial services will be held at Friendship cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Industry, labor conditions and civic development.
We should also develop something better than the provisions we have made thus far for caring for the victims of the hazards and vicissitudes of life. An excellent method lies in the modified application of the principles of insurance.

Government Insurance
In the heyday of the twenties and even in the first years of the depression, it was popular to scoff at unemployment insurance as a "dole," but the significant fact now stands out that in no country which has experienced with unemployment insurance has the system broken down, even in the present world depression, and in no country has the public treasury been called upon for amounts to relieve distress even approximately our expenditure for relief.

In this country, while we lag behind Europe, social insurance is not entirely unknown, but it is apparent we do not begin to meet the needs of the situation. The most serious hazards are almost unprovided for.

I regard our duty now to survey the entire field and outline what can and should be done to give real and complete economic security whether each section of the entire program is immediately feasible or not.

If such a program as I have outlined can be carried through to a successful conclusion this will be a better and more satisfying country in which to live, not only for this generation, but others to come. For the best interests of our people we can achieve the goal now generally recognized as desirable and well within the capacity and ingenuity of the citizens of this great republic.

Softball Series Is Proposed Here
14 Teams May Enter Tournament to Start Next Week

A softball tournament between the city's 14 teams was proposed Saturday by Oliver Williams, with the play-off to start next week for the championship title of Hope.

An entrance fee of $3 for each team and a list of players to participate in the play-off was suggested by Mr. Williams.

The entrance fee for each team would be deposited, and after expenses are settled the balance would be donated to the high school athletic fund.

Mr. Williams suggested that each team which wanted to enter the tournament, deposit with him the $3 and a list of players by Monday noon in order that places may be drawn and the tournament started by Tuesday or Wednesday night.

PARKER'S LEAD

The seventh district, who was trailing Wade Kitchens, Magnolia, 45 votes on the face of incomplete returns Friday night, said he planned to take no action until the official returns from Ashley and Calhoun counties are certified.

Complete and official returns from Bradley and Union and unofficial returns from Ashley and Calhoun gave Parks 14,852 and Kitchens 14,897.

A recount will begin in Calhoun county Saturday morning, Parks said, and the Ashley county vote will be certified Monday. He said he expected the official count to show that he carried both Ashley and Calhoun counties. The Calhoun recount was obtained by Wallace Ritchie, candidate for state senate.

"I feel sure I am elected," declared Parks.
Concerning the dispute over votes in Hempstead county, Parks said he would prefer to stand by the official

Open Forum for Kiwanis Meeting

A. M. Westmoreland Is Initiated Into Full Membership

A. M. Westmoreland of the Hempstead County Lumber Co., was initiated into full membership at a meeting of the Hope Kiwanis Friday night. The initiation was presided over by G. T. Cross.

Charles Dana Gibson, president, announced the appointment of G. T. Cross as chairman of the entertainment committee to succeed Wayne H. England, who relinquished the post to become club secretary.

The evening's program was in charge of S. C. Bundy. Mr. Bundy honored the new entertainment chairman by devoting the program to an open forum discussion of what the members liked and expected in the way of entertainment.

Programs of two types received the most popular approval. The first being professional entertainment, and the second calls for a main speaker with time being allowed for open discussion of the topic among the members.

Arthur Swanke, manager of the Saenger, volunteered to give the club's meetings a short preview of all shows coming to the Saenger.

Pick Up Reported in Retail Trade

Consumer Buying Gains for Final Week in August

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Productive and distributive branches of trade, said the weekly Dun and Bradstreet trade review Friday, are looking forward to Labor Day as the turning point from a curtailment of production toward a period of recovery and expansion.

"After its maintenance at an unexpectedly high level since June," asserted the survey, "the consumer buying impetus gained rapidly in the closing week in August."

"As consumer buying turned pronouncedly stronger as month drew to a close, many retailers had the best week of the summer, and sales rose as much as 15 per cent above the level of the week preceding and were 8 to 12 per cent larger than in the comparative period of 1933."

"In contrast to the encouraging progress being made in the distribution of merchandise, the rate of industrial activity continues to lag, and in many instances is becoming more dependent on federal or state expenditures."

A device with a weight only one-thousandth that of a drop of water is used to measure heat of the stars, vote.

The Hempstead county central committee after much discussion voted 20 to 10, to accept the Stephenson School precinct vote, and certified the county vote as Kitchens 1904, and Parks 1963.

Kitchens Asks Recount
HAMBURG, Ark.—Wade Kitchens through his attorney, filed petition before the Democratic Central Committee today for a recount in the boxes at Crossett, Parkdale and Dry Bayou. The combined vote of these boxes was 756. Kitchens received 110 and Parks 646. The committee took the matter under advisement and adjourned until 2 p. m. Monday.

NEWS CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
E. Clifton Rule, Pastor

"Zion's Warfare" will be the subject of the pastor's sermon Sunday morning at 10:55 o'clock.

"Behold The Man" will be the subject of the evening sermon at 7:30 o'clock. The sermon will be preceded by a song service led by Clifford Franks.

The Church school will meet at 9:45 o'clock.

The young people's groups will meet at 7 o'clock.

This is the day for the beginning of a series of revival services at the church. There will be services in the church auditorium in the mornings. The time has been set for 10 o'clock, but will be changed if the larger number of those attending desire a different hour. Monday morning the subject of the sermon will be "What It Costs to Really Pray." For the other mornings of the week the general theme will be "What May We Expect From Religion?"

The evening services will be held on the church lawn, except that if the weather is inclement we shall move into the church building. These services will be opened each evening with a congregational song service under the leadership of Mr. Franks. The time is 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the evening sermons for the first week will be studies in the great bible teachings of redemption.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

By AHERN

EGAD, LADS, I HAVE HAD SUCH A BULLY HOLIDAY, AND A PROFITABLE ONE, UM—M— THAT I WANT YOU TO CONSIDER YOUR VACATION HERE AS MY TREAT!—YES, I'LL PAY YOUR EXPENSES!—AS FOR THANKS, YOU CAN GIVE IT TO SOME POKER SHARKS WHO BECAME ENMESHED IN MY NET—AND TO A RACE HORSE NAMED LAST NUTZ! AND FOR ME, I'LL TAKE THREE HUZZAHS!

PAY OUR EXPENSES? WHY, I WOULDN'T THINK OF IT—BUT, IF YOU INSIST WITH FORCE, I HAVE TISSUE PAPER RESISTANCE!

BUT YOU'LL HAVE US ON TH' JELLY SHELF! WE CAN'T RIB OR KID YOU AFTER THIS!

IF I CAN MAKE TH' BOAT BEFORE I SINK!

AND THEY WERE GETTING DOWN TO BED ROCK IN THEIR PURSES

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

DON'T LET HIM FLUTTER LIKE THAT—HELL BREAK HIS LEG. HOLD HIM STILL WHILE YOU'RE TAKIN' HIS FOOT OUT OF THAT CRACK.

THAT'S FINE, WHEN A BIG SHOT WILL LEND HIS VALUABLE TIME AN' BRAIN, TO GET A LITTLE THING LIKE A SPARROW OUT OF A MESS—THAT'S A FINE TRAIT IN A BIG SHOT.

YEH—IT IS FINER FER A BIG SHOT TO BUTT INTO SOMETHIN' HE DON'T KNOW A THING ABOUT, THAN IT WOULD BE FER ME ER YOU!—HIS WASTED TIME IS WORTH MORE, AND IT TAKES ONE OR MORE MEN TO CARRY OUT HIS MISTAKES.

THE MASTER MIND.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Willie Has the Right Idea!

BUT LISSEN, FELLA—IT AINT RIGHT FER YUH TACT THIS WAY! BOOTS— WE WONT GO INTO THAT

OKAY! WOTEVER HAPPENED BETWEEN YOU N'HER IS YEH OWN BIZ, BUT I JUS' WANTED YUH T'KNOW SHE'S WORRIED SICK ABOUTCHA

THAT'S ALL OVER, NOW

Head Work!

By HAMLIN

SO WOT? YOTRE Y'GONNA DO—ACT LIKE A SPOILED KID N'RUN OFF N'WHIDE LIKE THIS? TAKE MY ADVICE, KID, N'LAUGH IT OFF! LIFE IS LIKE THAT—JUS ONE MESS OF STARS AFTER ANOTHER! Y'HAVE T'LEARN T' TAKE IT ON TH' WHISKERS N'LOVE IT! YER A MAN, NOW, Y'KNOW IF THIS SORTA THING HELPED ANY, IT'D BE DIFFERENT

WELL, THEN—IF YUH WONT THINK OF BOOTS, YUH GOTTA THINK OF YER WORK! SAY, YER DIRECTOR OUT AT THEM STUDIOS IS MAKIN' A WILD MAN LOOK LIKE A CIGAR STORE INSUN

I DONT CARE— LET HIM RAVE! NOTHING MATTERS, NOW

ALLEY OOP

SO TH' KING WANTS T'KNOW WHERE ALLEY OOP IS— HMM— ELLYKO, WUB— KAWUNKY, ZINGO!

MEBEE TH' WOZZY'LL TELL US WHERE HE IS!

ALL RIGHT, WOZZY— HERE'S TO YA! DO YOUR STUFF!

AAAAH!

WASH TUBS

OUR PLAN'S WORKING LIKE A CHARM, PODNER. WHY, WE'LL MAKE A NEW MAN O' OLD BOARDMAN, AND WIN THAT $10,000 IN A WALK.

HEY! SHAKE A LEG. LET'S GET BACK TO CAMP BEFORE DARK. I DON'T LIKE THE IDEA OF THOSE WILDCATS.

BEFORE DARK? WHY, MAN, I'LL TAKE US AT LEAST THREE DAYS.

THREE DAYS? OH, MY STARS!

FURTHERMORE, SUH, WE'RE GOING DOWN STREAM UNTIL WE COME TO A ROAD, IT'LL BE EASIER.

NO, NO, NO! I WANT TO GO BACK TO CAMP, HANJ IT ALL, I'M HUNGRY, AND WET, AND COLD.

WHOAT! HOLD ON, BUDDIE, OUR AGREEMENT IS THAT YER'RE BOSS, AND YER'RE NOT TO COMPLAIN.

SHOO! I KNEW IT WOULDN'T WORK, HE'S CRABBIN' ALREADY.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

HEY, CHARLIE— I LAID A PIECE OF SOAP DOWN JUST A MINUTE AGO, AND IT'S GONE!

PROBABLY A PORCUPINE TOOK IT!

DO THEY LIKE TO EAT SOAP?

THEY LOVE IT! AND THEY CAN SMELL A PIECE OF SOAP A MILE AWAY! PORCUPINE MEAT IS GOOD EATING, TOO!

DO YOU SUPPOSE WE COULD SHOOT ONE? WE'RE JUST ABOUT OUT OF MEAT!!

IT'S AGAINST THE LAW— BUT YOU CAN KILL 'EM WITH A STICK! YOU HAVE TO CRACK THEM ON THE NOSE. THAT'S THE ONLY PLACE THEY'RE NOT PROTECTED BY QUILLS!!

GEE! CHARLIE SURE KNOWS EVERYTHING ABOUT WILD LIFE!

HEY, FELLAS! HEY, FELLAS!

DID YOU CATCH A PORCUPINE, NUTTY?

NO! ON THE CONTRARY!!

Nutty Caught Something, All Right!

By BLOSSER

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

WHY, YOU CAN'T EVEN SHUFFLE CARDS, LET ALONE DO A TRICK WITH THEM. COME ON, SUGAR— I'M IN A HURRY

AGUSTA WHALES SHOWED ME THIS AFTERNOON AT BRIDGE— NOW WATCH!!

WELL, YOU SHOW ME WHERE THAT OLD DINER SUIT IS! I'VE GOT A CHANCE TO SELL IT

THERE, YOU SPILLED IT! I TOLD YOU YOU COULDN'T DO IT! YOU HAVE T'BE A MAGICIAN TO DO TRICKS LIKE THAT!!

It's a Clever Trick!

By COWAN

WELL, MR SMARTY, I WAS A GOOD ENOUGH MAGICIAN TO TURN YOUR OLD DINNER SUIT INTO A WINDOW BOX!

HUH! WHAT D'YA MEAN?

JUST WHAT I SAID— I BOLD IT TO THE OLD CLOTHES MAN, AND BOUGHT THE WINDOW BOX YOU'VE BEEN PROMISING ME ALL SUMMER!!
